During Organised Play

This part of the evening is run by the session organisers using computer technology.

Games will be displayed on the wall behind the control table.

Session organisers will try to match players of similar abilities using a grading system

If you feel that your grading is incorrect please talk to the organisers

Organised play usually commences with doubles (all in).

This is followed by singles where players are allocated to one of two groups, therefore playing one round and sitting out for one round. Organisers may swap players from one group to another. This would mean playing in consecutive rounds. Players may ask to swap groups.

If there are unallocated tables during your sitting out round you are welcome to use these.

Rounds last for approx 15 minutes.

Players arriving before 7.30pm can expect to play three singles during this part of the evening.

Players can also request a round with a coach or with a specified player.

Please talk to the session organisers if you have any questions or requests.

Outside Organised Play

Outside the organised rounds players can use tables on a first come basis.
